

Sponsoring the Parliamentary Internship Programme

What is the Parliamentary Internship Programme?

The Parliamentary Internship Programme (PIP) is the leading non-partisan internship programme at the House of Commons for Canadian university graduates. Established by Parliament in 1969 and administered by the Canadian Political Science Association, the Programme is supported by its patron, the Speaker of the House, friends of the Programme, sponsors, and alumni. The 10 interns are selected through a national competition and receive a salary during their 10-month internship. Each Intern works for one government and one opposition Member of Parliament (MP) during the year. Interns also participate in civic engagement outreach, and organize comparative study tours to Quebec City, Brussels, London, Washington and Iqaluit.

PIP alumni permeate the government and political landscapes of Ottawa and Canada's provincial capitals. Several have been elected to the House of Commons and provincial legislatures, while others have become ambassadors, deputy ministers, professors, journalists, and the presidents of corporations, charities, and not-for-profit associations.

Benefits of Sponsorship

PIP is supported by in-kind contributions from the House of Commons and core funding from a limited number of Sponsors. PIP offers four sponsorship categories based on the level of annual contributions – Platinum ($50,000+), Gold ($22,000+), Silver ($11,000+), Bronze ($2,750+). In addition, PIP operates a “Friends of the Programme” category for partners who provide in-kind support or funding for specific Programme activities, such as the legislative study tours.

Gold level Sponsors and above:

- PIP creates unique opportunities for its Gold and Platinum Sponsors. These vary depending on the level of their financial contribution and provide marquee sponsorship of annual PIP events, include a higher sponsor profile and a speaking role for sponsor organization

Friends and Silver level Sponsors and above:

- Invitations to the three annual PIP luncheons hosted by the Speaker of the House of Commons.

All PIP Sponsors and Friends receive:

- An invitation to the annual private sponsors reception held in September for the new Interns;
- An invitation to the annual PIP Alumni Celebration, a popular event to which all MPs and Senators are invited;
- An invitation to the exclusive Spring Reception to which all MPs are invited;
- Meetings with the 10 Interns to communicate with them about your organization and issues;
- Invitations to the PIP's annual Symposium where Interns present their research projects;
- Sponsor recognition at PIP events and acknowledgement on the PIP website;
- Opportunities to participate in an extensive, established network and build strong relationships with PIP Interns, alumni, and fellow sponsor organizations;
- Invitations to any events organized in lieu of the above during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Note: All event invitations and seating arrangements for Members of Parliament and other public office holders are handled by the Parliamentary Internship Programme and are in keeping with the guidelines and rules set out by the Ethics and Lobbying Commissioners. Sponsors are supporting an educational program and the PIP will recognize all contributions to the training of the Interns. Sponsors have no input into the selection of MPs and Interns, and the Programme is not a channel for lobbying activities.
